Dear Julia Ezzo,

I am writing to personally thank you for conducting an excellent FDLP Academy webinar on March 24, 2026. Your program, “A Practical Guide to Researching US Food Law and Regulations” had 56 attendees who were all very interested in the content and found the webinar to be very informative.

I appreciate your continued outreach to FDLP members and for recording the program for the FDLP Academy archive. Our library community values the flexibility of learning at their own pace.

The U.S. Government Publishing Office (GPO) highly values our partnership with Michigan State University. My staff and I are grateful for information professionals like yourself who dedicate significant time and expertise to teaching others about government information resources.

Sincerely,

SCOTT MATHESON
