Dear

I hope this letter finds you well.

On behalf of the entire Government Documents Round Table (GODORT) community, I want to extend our deepest gratitude for your continued and generous support of our Round Table. As one of the founding members who helped establish GODORT, you laid the essential foundation for what has become a vibrant forum for information professionals dedicated to government information—promoting its availability, use, bibliographic control, and the ongoing education of those who work with it every day.

Your steadfast commitment over the years has been truly remarkable. Through your regular contributions, you have enabled GODORT to sustain and expand our mission: fostering discussion, advocating for improved access to government documents at all levels, bridging connections among librarians, and supporting programs that advance the field. Your generosity directly supports scholarships, awards, professional development opportunities, and initiatives that strengthen our collective work in preserving and promoting public access to vital government information.

We are continually inspired by your dedication—not only as a pioneer who helped shape this Round Table but also as a loyal supporter who continues to invest in its future. Your involvement reminds us all of the enduring impact one person's vision and generosity can have on an entire professional community.

Thank you once again for your unwavering support and for the profound role you have played in GODORT's history and ongoing success. We are honored to have you as part of our community and look forward to your continued partnership in the years ahead.

With sincere appreciation and warm regards,

Julia Ezzo
